

Discovery

The Discovery Service finds high quality books, respected academic journal articles, images and more from the library catalogue and specialist databases from a single search. To get started, click the blue search button on the Library homepage, enter your search terms and click "Search".

By default, the Discovery Service will find results relevant for all subjects. You can limit your research results to your particular subject area by selecting your area of study from the drop-down menu just beneath the search box on the Library homepage, or start your search from the advanced search screen. This will include results for a wider range of items, some of which will not be immediately available to you. Our inter library loan service can help you to get hold of them.
